The longer we live, the faster time goes. Time is like a ball rolling down hill. With each yard its speed increases.

— CT —

The reason for this becomes clear if we recall how full and long the days seem when we are placed in a new environment. The first few days of a vacation, if we go to a strange place, seem longer than the next two weeks.

— CT —

In the early years of life, the senses are hourly stimulated by new exeperiences. Gradually, however, these senses are blunted and the days fade into one another, leaving almost no impression on our intellect. Birthdays come so fast that we lost the count.

— CT —

Schopenhauer's reflections on this subject led him to lay down the rule that the length of any given year in a person's lifetime is in direct proportion to the number of times it will divide our whole life. At the age of fifty the year appears to us only one-tenth as long as it did at the age of five; at the age of sixty the fraction is reduced to one-twelfth; in other words, the fifth year is twelve times as long as the sixtieth year.

— CT —

Schopenhauer contends that the time of boredom, therefore, is youth and not old age. Children are so thoroughly alive that they need constant occupation or they are miserable. To them an idle hour is like a day. In later years the days fly so fast that the old man is hardly aware that he is out of bed before he discovers that the time has come to retire. Is this a consolation, or a cause for regret?

— CT —

When people try to salve a problem, their most typical difficulty is trying to make full use of the information available. A case in point is the story of the truck that was stuck in an underpass. Various onlookers tried to be helpful by suggesting ways for extricating it, but all their suggestions involved reasonably major deformations — either of the truck or of the underpass. At this point, a little boy stepped forth and suggested letting air out of the tires. Many such stories exist in science and invention, and all serve to show the same point: A solution, once stated can be seen as obvious.

— CT —

The conscious effort to become great, in a man as in a nation, is not necessarily a sign of strength but may bespeak an unacknowledged inner weakness. Greatness is a quality inherent in men and nations, not something to be acquired like power and riches. It is not like a woman to be conquered by conscious effort; but it is a gift of heaven which is given to those who deserve it not to those, who seek it. Those who seek greatness for themselves and for their nations with frenzied effort may reveal through the very frenzy of their efforts that they are lacking what it takes to be great.

If you have work to do — do it now.
If you have a witness to give — give it now
If you have a soul to win — win him now.
If you have an obligation to discharge — discharge it now.
If you have a debt to pay — pay it now.
If you have a wrong to right — right it now.

Here is a couple that I picked up the other day that deal with traffic, and each one of them do tell a sort of a story . . . at least I think they are worth the space given.

— CT —

A seven-year-old boy may well be the youngest person ever arrested on traffic charges. Police chased the second-grader on his mini-bike at speeds of up to 50 miles an hour. After he was apprehended, he said he was so nervous he couldn't remember his telephone number. Asked to spell his mid-

Information reaches the Sierra Madre News Office this week that ground will be broken on the Arcadia Plaza Center within the next week or ten days, and further that authentic information also was contained in the report that over 70 per cent of the selling area has been leased for the opening of business establishments. Further the information also reaches us that the Grand Opening of the Center is planned for no later than September of 1974.

This type of information should get every merchant in Sierra Madre to the point of serious thinking; here is approximately 50 to 60 new businesses opening within one and a half miles from the main street of Sierra Madre. Still in talking with Hugh Campbell, president of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce we find that only about 25 merchants of a total of 66 retail stores have joined with them for a gigantic promotion for the merchants of Sierra Madre and their customers.

Earlier this year your Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce met and decided to tentatively employ a promotional firm to correlate the activities of Sierra Madre, plan sales and promotional items for the good of the population and the merchants. It was estimated that to carry a very aggressive program and one that would be of high success that it would take a total of $12,000 part of which would be paid by the City of Sierra Madre, through an agreement made sometime ago under the presidency of Bruno Niccoli.

After the committee, who were charged with the promotion had gotten their heads together, it was decided that the full amount could be raised if the participating merchants would each pay a total of $120 for the first year.

The committee, fully realizing that this amount of money might put a strain on the business budget, allowed

Clubs Join In Presenting Check To Enhance Park

A special Wildlife Park Fund was established at Tuesday's City Council meeting with the presentation of a check for $1000 by the Sierra Madre Civic Club and Woman's Club. This fund is to be used for enhancement of the Wildlife Park in Bailey Canyon, with salt licks, special forage crops, etc., under the direction of Steve Renfro, director of Parks and Recreation.

Wildlife Park in Bailey Canyon is a portion of the 1100 acres, encompassing the famed Mt. Wilson Trail, which was declared a wilderness area several years ago and will remain a sanctuary where young and old alike may have the opportunity of observing a wide variety of plants and animas. Guided tours for school children already are underway and the Fund also will provide for identification markers, observation and information posts and other educational guides for visitors to the preserve.

The check, presented by Mrs. John Maddox, president of the Woman's Club, and Mrs. Jerry Adkins, substituting for Mrs. DeLoyce Alcorn, president of the Civic Club, represents the profits from the April 7th Wildlife Park Benefit Garden Tour, con-

Harold Porter Now At Orrin Fox's Five Acres

HAROLD PORTER
. . . . Now with Orrin Fox Motors

Anybody that has been in Sierra Madre for at least the past couple of years knows and appreciates the honesty of one of our oustanding car salesmen, Harold Porter.

Harold has been selling, guaranteeing and pleasing Sierra Madreans and people of this area for the past 23 years, and now announces that over the past couple of months he has been quite unhappy with the Motor Industry and very concerned about the economy of the country and set out to find any solution that could help those that he serves.

After a month's study and deliberation, Harold says, "I have thoroughly looked over the field in an attempt to find the very best for my people, and I think I have found it in the present Warranty Policy of American Motors." Now that he has come to this conclusion, Harold would like to talk to all of his friends and explain what he has found, for

Firefighters Summoned To Old Century Lane Hotel

Your Sierra Madre Volunteer Firefighters were called into action Wednesday. April 25, at the hour of 12:10 p.m. when an alarm was phoned in from a nearby merchant.

Responding in record time, Engine 41 laid its supply line from its station doors to the scene of the fire, which was approximately 300 feet, and had water on the fire within a two minute period after the alarm.

Arcadia, responding with one enigine to all structure fires in our city while Engine 42 is in the Crown repair shop for the next 40-days, arrived on the scene to give the local lads an assist within a five minute period.

When observed, smoke was bellowing out of two sides of the apartment section of the center, and after breaking into the burning area it was found that heavy smoke and fire was indeed evident.

After complete examination, Fire Marshal Probart said, "It appears as though the fire may have been caused by an electric blan-

Rattlesnakes Are Now On Way Out of Hibernation

Citizens of Sierra Madre and more specially all foothill areas. were given warnings this week that Rattlesnakes are now coming out of hibernation, and have been sighted and destroyed by the police of the various cities The following warning is given by the Department of Animal Regulation:

Warning

Warm spring weather, together with bringing out the best in mother nature. also brings out the rattlesnakes. With the advent of spring and ealy summer the rattlers emerge from hibernation and become a source of potential danger, especially to children, hikers and picnickers.

Rattlesnakes, according to reptilian authorities, are generally shy and not prone to attack, but are hungry when emerging from hibernation and are active in search for food. The rattler most likely will be present in areas harboring small rodents such as rats, mice and gophers.

Robert I. Rush, general manager of the Los Angeles City Department of Animal Regulations, urges persons sighting rattlers,to exercise a policy of non-aggression.

GALA DAYS AT ALTADENA FOR ALL AGES MAY 3-4-5

Altadena's most exciting weekend of the year is almost upon us. Cancel those reservations to far-away places and plan to come to Altadena's Old Fashioned Days on May 3, 4 and 5.

Some of the fascinating sights you will be seeing along Lake Ave. and Mariposa St. are a nickelodeon and strolling minstrels, and that melodeous sound that can only mean an old-fashioned barbershop quartet.

On Saturday, that sweet, heady aroma of freshly baked goods will lead you to the baking contest winners. with their pies, cakes, breads and sweetbreads.

To please your eye for beauty there will be the needlecraft contest. From subtle and muted hues to all the gay brilliant colors of the rainbow, in intricate designs of floss embroidery, crewel embroidery, needlepoint, knitting and crochet.

Still speaking of contests, you won't want to miss the judging of the beard growing contest, held, as are all the others, on Saturday morning, May 5, in front of various stores along Lake Ave. and Mariposa St. You'll want to stop and goggle at those strange and fascinating fur-covered faces, and root for your favorite handlebar, mutton-chops or bushy beard.

To get you off to a nourishing start Saturday, the day of the big parade and the first day of the rodeo, you'll want to stop by the American Legion Hall, Lake Ave. and Fontonet Way, for a mouth-watering breakfast put on by the Altadena Christmas Lane Association and served by Girl Scout Troop 77. The hours are between 8:30 and 11:30, and for the attractive price of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children, you'll sit down to a ranch-style breakfast of eggs, country sausage, hash brown potatoes, cinnamon rolls, milk and coffee.

Strolling down the avenue you'll come upon the hustle and bustle of the Central Altadena Little League's flea market, held in Republic Federal Savings parking lot on N. Lake Ave. You'll have plenty of time to browse as the hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. You're bound to find something you can't resist,, at a price that can't be beat. Among the many irresistable items to catch your eye will be paintings, pottery, stamps and coins and arts and crafts. Equally irresistable to your sweet-tooth will be baked goods and cotton candy.

Thursday and Friday evenings, May 3 and 4, at the Altadena Community Church, 943 E. Altadena Drive, will be night of nostalgia for many, and of great interest for young and old alike, as Mr. Phil Callahan presents "To Mt. Lowe With Love." This film will be shown both nights at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30. The tickets will be available the week prior to the showing at booths along Lake Ave.

For the "Out of the Tunk" segmet of the style show, members will model garments of a by-gone era, many of which have been updated as the current 'in' thing.

For "In the Future" Mrs. Polly Ronning, fashion coordinator and commentator, has selected an exciting collection fo costumes to take milady through her busy schedule from the early morning appointment to a glamorous evening 'on the town.' Department store models will parade down the runway to the accompaniment of the proper mood music.

The Arcadia club, striving for the 1,000 member goal in '73 has been active in the community since 1954 when a small group of dedicated women were instrumental in its organization. The main function of the Federation is education, but according to Mrs. Thomas B. Portwood, Jr., president, the women play an important role in various phases of party functions and locally, dedication to civic development, on a non-partisan basis, is an integral part of the program.

Mrs. Robert S. Whitmore, Jr., membership chairman, states that membership is open to any woman not registered in another political party. It is her hope that anyone wishing to learn more about the organization, attend the party. She adds that there is 'something for everyone and the extent of active participation is the choice of each individual.'

Among those working on party plans are, in addition to Mrs. Portwood, Mrs. Robert S. Whitmore, Jr., Mrs. Bartling P. Anderegg, Mrs. Robert Considine, Mrs. Ray Bowles, Mrs. C. O. Porter, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. David Green, Mrs. Douglas Moline, and Mrs. Herbert R. Sawtelle.

Mrs. Portwood adds that, in addition, there will be door prizes and surprises, and an impressive list of honored guests. She urges each member to invite guests.

There is no business meeting scheduled for the month as the party is planned for the regular meeting day.

Presbyterian Camp To Open

The Arcadia Presbyterian Boys' Choir is happy to announce this year the choir work camp will be open to boys of the community, ages 8 through 13, who are interested in a great musical experience plus recreation. The camp will be held August 13 through April 26, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Arcadia Presbyterian Church, First and Alice Streets, Arcadia. Reservations are being accepted at the church office, phone 446-0107.

The camp director will be Mrs. Tabitha Henken. Her staff is: Mrs. Judy Ballenger, accompanist; Mrs. Jean Voznick, will teach body movement; Mrs. Patti Valentine, will teach fundamentals of music; tone production will be taught by Mr. James Updegraff and Mr. Rodney Mount. The choir mothers will form committese to assist the staff with the recreational program.

SS R. J. Trottier Now Participating

Marine Staff Sergeant Ronald J. Trottier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland J. Trottier of 94 W. Bonita Ave., participated in "Golden Dragon 73," a combined United States/Republic of Korea amphibious training exercise off Korea's southeast coast.

He is a member of the U.S. 7th Fleet's Marine Amphibious Unit 33, made up of Okinawa-based Marines.

Rattlesnakes Now Being Seen In Area

jects at it," he warns, "If a rattle or any other snake is observed in a Los Angeles residential area, report it to our department and let professional animal handlers take care of the situation."

Should you encounter a Rattlesnake on your property, it is advised that you call your Police Department immediately. Sierra Madre number is 355-1414. Do not attempt to handle the situation yourself and always remember they do run in pairs.

Children should be warned against playing or hiking in areas with tall grass or rocky formations. Fallen trees, man-made wood piles or accessible open spaces under dwellings are all possible hiding places for the rattler. The rattler seeks cool places on a hot day. Hikers are best protected by high top boots with loose jeans worn outside.

A person bitten by a rattlesnake should remain as calm as possible and seek immediate treatment from the nearest physician or medical center, says Dr. Findlay E. Russell, snake bite authority, USC School of Medicine, Los Angeles County General Hospital.

The first step in the event of snake bite, says Russell, is capture the snake if possible for identification and kill it. Next, Russell recommends application of a constriction band two to four inches above the bite. The band should be applied not later than 30 minutes following the bite, should be released for 90 seconds every ten minutes and should not be used for more than two hours. The band should be used in conjunction with incision and suction first aid measures. Oral suction should not be used if other means of suction are available, as provided in snake bite kits. Incision and suction are of value only if carried out within thirty minutes following the bite.

The part of the body where the bite occurred should be immobilized. This can be done by splinting as for a broken leg. The bite victim should be kept warm, should not be given alcohol, but may be given water, coffee or tea. If possible the victim should be transported by litter or other conveyance to the nearest source of medical aid. If the victim must walk, he should proceed slowly and rest periodically.

At the doctor's office or hospital, inform the doctor of the genus of the snake involved (if known) or turn the dead, unidentified snake over to the doctor.

Russell estimates that at least 8,000 bites by venomous snakes occur each year in the United States, and that approximately 7,000 of these result in some degree of snake venom poisoning. A large percentage of the snake bites occur in Southern California. However, Russell says, he can recall no more than three deaths from snake bites in Southern California in the past decade.

Twenty-eight Paramedics Graduated

Twenty eight paramedics will join the ranks of one nation's newest emergency teams when the LAC/USC Medical Center graduated its second class Fiday, April 27, Supervisor Baxter Ward announced recently.

Graduation exercises were held at 10:30 a.m. in the General Hospital auditorium.

The paramedics now staff mobile intensive care units throughout the county. The class of 28 was made up of 16 county firemen, seven from the Long Beach Fire Department, and five civilian paramedics who will staff Los Angeles City Fire Department rescue ambulances.

A total of 234 paramedics have now been certified. Another 124 are undergoing five months of intensive training in four classes at both Harbor General Hospital and LAC/USC Medical Center.

Eight county firemen will staff Squad 29 serving Irwindale and Baldwin Park. Base station hospital is Queen of the Valley in West Covina.

The city rescue specialists will man Fire Department Rescue Ambulance number four, serving the civic center area. The LAC/USC Medical Center is its base station hospital.

Speakers included Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, James O. Page, battalion chief, County Fire Department, and Edward Lenoski, M.D., LAC/USC Medical Center.

Local Boys In Presentation

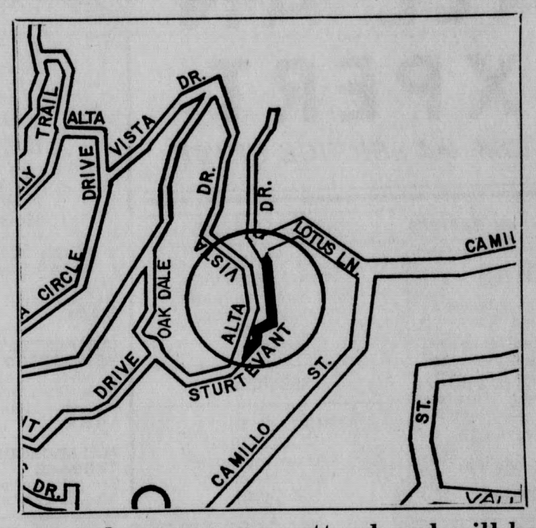

Mike Hatcher, Bill Bauman, Bob Reeder and Paul Reid are the local boys that are members of the Arcadia Presbyterian Boys Choir who will present an evening concert in the church Sanctuary on Sunday evening, May 6, at the hour of 7:30.

The boys have memorized over forty songs in several languages. Admission is free with a goodwill offering being taken.

Cactus Society To Meet May 10

Epiphyllum cactus blossoms, spectacular in color and in size, will be the feature attraction of a one-day show to be held Sunday, May 13, at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, 301 N. Baldwin Ave., Arcadia.

The show is the 14th annual presentation by the Epiphyllum Society of America.

Epiphyllum blossoms belong to the genus, Epiphyllum, familiarly known as the "Orchid Cactus." Epiphyllums are mostly epiphytes, growing typically in forks of tree branches. They also do well in hanging baskets outdoors in frost-free areas.

Instruct Your Child About Wild Animals

Children should be taught not to approach or handle wild animals, especially skunks and bats. State Health Director J. M. Stubblebine, M.D. said recently. The reason: the chance of rabies in a skunk or bat found by a child is quite high.

"The probability of rabies is nearly 100 per cent in a skunk that attacks and bites a human, or in a bat that is found paralyzed on the ground," said Dr. Stubblebine.

He said anyone bitten by a skunk or bat should immediately wash out the wound and seek medical attention without delay. If possible, the animal should be killed or captured without exposing others and taken promptly to a public health laboratory for rabies tests. Often the biting animal escapes, leaving the physician and the patient with the dilemma of whether to begin anti-rabies treatment, Dr. Stubblebine said.

Human rabies and dog rabies are rare in California. During 1972, for the first time in the state's history, no cases of rabies in dogs were reported. However, rabies may be re-estabished in dogs if stray animal control and vaccination programs lag, Dr. Stubblebine said.

Out of the Cobwebs

Sixty Years Ago:
May 9, 1913

Walter E. Wright has sold the barber shop which he has conducted for the past two years to Alvin Langley of Los Angeles, formerly of North Dakota. Mr. Langley has brought his wife and two children to Sierra Madre and expects to make this place his home. Mr. Wright and family have gone to the northern part of the state to locate.

Sierra Madre has received numerous compliments from visitors as one city which has had the good sense not to cut down the trees which happened to be growing in the public roadways. Now it is up to the voters to determine whether this condition shall continue or whether all the trees shall come out. It is urged that the trees are dangerous to traffic, especially autos. Perhaps some of them are, but certainly not all of them, nor even half of them. Why should it be necessary to cut out all on account of the very few which offer any real danger? It is urged by those who would root out the big oaks that we can plant ten trees in the parkways for every tree that is cut out. Sounds good, but you will have to show me. In other words, do the planting before the cutting is begun. Don't let the trees we have be torn out on any such hazy supposition as that. Vote NO on the third proposition on the ballot.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carhart of Los Angeles have been the guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lawless. Mr. and Mrs. Carhart will spend the summer in the Osgood home, awaiting the completion of their own home.

E. N. Mead left on Tuesday for Georgia where he will join Mrs. Mead and visit at the home of his son, E. W. Mead, and other relatives. He will also visit his sisters, the Misses Mead, in New Jersey during the summer.

It will be seen that the manufacture of wine or liquor of any kind in Sierra Madre is prohibited except under certain specified conditions. At present the manufacture of wines is carried on at two places in Sierra Madre. The winery of J.J. Hart is situated at the corner of Central and Hermosa Avenues and that of Camilio Guercio is situated above Grand View Avenue and a short distance east of the entrance to Carter's Camp. The present regulations governing wineries permit the sale of wine in any quantity but not for consumption on the premises.

The licensing of cats in Sierra Madre in the hope that their number will be greatly decreased and bird life in and about the city preserved, was strongly urged in a communication from Miss Virginia Miller of 87 North Auburn avenue, which was read at Wednesday's meeting of the City Council. The communication pointed out that many of the cats roaming about go unfed by their owners and are practically wild. Song birds are so plentiful here that the felines feel no occasion to hunt gophers, Miss Miller said, and she had never know of a cat here to

6. QUESTION: Must all firms doing business under a fictitious name publish at the time of filing?

ANSWER: Yes, provided two or more filing fees of $10.00 each are paid the County Clerk for multiple indexing, and provided that printer's proofs of publication are provided the County Clerk for filing with the original copies of the consolidated statement. Most newspapers will make an additional charge for each additional firm name.

13. QUESTION: Will a change in residence address of an individual or member of a general partnership doing business under a filed fictitious name make necessary a publication when filing is repeated at the end of each five year period?

ANSWER: Yes, publication will be required when re-filing is made at the end of each five year period if there has been any "change in information" which makes a new statement differ from the old one. If there have been no changes in the statement from one five year period to the next, no additional publication will be required. However, this issue cannot be raised until 1976 and the years thereafter.

ANSWER: County Counsel of Los Angeles County has ruled that any form is acceptable provided it is of the 8½ by 11-inch dimensions prescribed by the State Judicial Council for forms, and provided it embraces all items specified in Section 17913 of the Business and Professions Code, and without regard to other material that may be printed on the forms for identification or informational purposes.

15. QUESTION: After July 1, 1971, will all new filings require pubication?

ANSWER: All new filings will require pubication until December 31, 1976. (Ruling of the County Clerk of Los Angeles County.)

16. QUESTION: What other values do registrants gain through publication of Fictitious Firm Names?

Q. — I have been studying the reports of a number of electric utility companies, and there is an item called Construction Interest Income which confuses me. This item has gotten larger and larger for the past three or four years in the reports of the utilities that I have looked at. In some of them it is almost as much as the total earned income the utility is reporting. I don't believe this is really income, and I'm wondering if this isn't inflating the income of utilities and making them look like they are earning more money than they really are.

A. — Construction Interest Income as reported by an electric utility is not really income. It results from an accounting procedure that is suggested for electric utilities by the Federal Power Commission. The Commission recently changed the title to "Allowance For Funds Used During Construction."

When an electric utility embarks on a building program, one of the first things it does is borrow money to pay for or finance the new construction. It takes some time to build the new plant, and during the construction period the utility has to pay interest on the borrowed money. The borrowed money may be in the form of bonds, debentures, preferred stock or possibly a bank loan. This allowance also covers funds advanced by the utility for the construction which may not actually have been borrowed.

Rightfully, it seems to us, the Federal Power Commission holds that the interest on the money used is a part of the cost of the new plant; and, therefore, when the utility pays interest on the borrowed money, it really makes four accounting entries. (1) It charges interest expense, and (2) it credits cash when it pays the interest bill. Then, (3) it charges construction cost of the new plant and (4) credits Construction Credit Income. As you can see, this is only an accounting entry that puts the interest cost on the books as part of the cost of the new plant.

If these last two entries were not made, the company would still have the same income that it now reports.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The irate housewives, who should be irate, have taken dead aim on the price of meat by boycott. Unfortunately, they are going to people suffer and lose their jobs who don't deserve to since they had nothing whatsoever to do with the high price of meat.

The real culprits are the free-spending Congressmen and the Administrations who have spent billions beyond tax income and have eroded and ruined the value of the dollar. They are the real offenders who have created inflation and high taxes by Congressional spending for pet projects. Two prime examples are $22,432,117.71 per day for foreign aid and $416,681.48 per day for the United Nations.

All right ladies — more power to you, but let's all of us take a point on the high-rolling "Big Spenders" in Congress — the real culprits who have caused high wages and prices!

City's Site Proved To Be Indian Camp . . . Historical Society Hears Interesting Facts and Inspects Old Relics — Evidences that the mesa, now known as Marlborough Terrace, once the Churchill property and originally the pioneer Smith place, was an Indian camping spot was brought out in the informal discussion by Arthur Carter following Lindley Bynum's lecture before the Sierra Madre Historical Society, on Friday evening at the City Hall. Many Indian relics of the past, chiefly some very fine mortars and pestles have been discovered from time to time. Two very symetrical mortars upturned on the mesa were incorporated in the masonry of the pebble stone fireplace in the original club house built in Sierra Madre Canyon some years ago, and there are several others owned by the older residents. The promontory across the canyon where the Easter Cross is erected also is an Indian camp site, it has been proved. Mr. Bynum in his talk of the ceremonies of the Southwest Indian was able as an authority to give a new light on the tribes which roamed through this territory, as being far superior in intellect knowledge of cultural crafts and philosophy than the old pioneer historian conceded. Their ceremonials, in which music and the dance rhythms were paramount, are traditional in their exactness and so far have been difficult to reproduce because of the differences in musical interval and their scale to ours. An exhibit of old time photos collected by William Lauren Rhoades, curator of the Society and his committee, Mrs. Fred Griebenow and Miss Marion Vannier, discloses some interesting mementoes of the past.

Cerebral Palsy Fund Drive Starts May 15

William Pate, president of United Cerebral Palsy of United Cerebral Palsy of Los Angeles County announced the start of a countywide campaign to raise funds to support services in 1973 for children and adults with cerebral palsy.

The head of the voluntary health agency said the drive to raise the funds would take place May 15-July 15.

The cerebral palsy group offers services to children and adults stricken with the complex handicapping condition.

According to the UCP leader, cerebral palsy usually occurs around the time of birth and is caused by damage to the brain. People with cerebral palsy usually suffer a combination of physical and mental disabilities. They may be unable to walk without the aid of crutches or braces, to hear or speak, and in need of intensive medical care and therapy. Or they may be only minimally disabled and be able to benefit from training and counseling programs.

Pate pointed out that studies have shown that when rehabiliation training is started early enough, it is possible to raise considerably the level of independence for most patients.

The leader urged the public if not contacted personally, to send in their contribution to county headquarters: United Cerebral Paisy, 14651 Titus St., Van Nuys, Calif.

Life would be more enjoyable if more people tried to enjoy it.

Rev. Anderson's Sermon Topic

Pastor of Sierra Madre Congregational Church, Rev. Richard J. Anderson, will have for his sermon topic this Sunday morning, "A Letter From Jesus To Smyrna."

Speaking about his sermon topic, Rev. Anderson says: "Jesus commends the Christians of Smyrna for their wealth in the midst of very trying circumstances. Of course, this wealth isn't material wealth; it's spiritual wealth for they were a very poor and persecuted group of believers. Those who instigated the persecution were Apostate Jews who were in reality instruments of darkness. The great Christion Polycarp was killed in Smyrna in 168 AD and these same persecutors garnered faggots of wood in order to have Polycarp burned at the stake.

"Jesus encourages this place in condemning them and there is an exhortation not to fear those who persecute them, but to wait for he promise of the crown of life."

Pastor Anderson concludes with, "This letter to Shyrna can be of encouragement to Christians in all ages including the present age when more believers have had to suffer for the cause of Christ than even in the first century. Today in countries behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains, ther places in Africa, and in our own country there is a growing movement of persecution against the Church of Jesus Christ. We should listen to those message and find great comfort and strength for it in the day in which we live."

Second Sunday After Easter

The second Sunday after Easter has become known as "Good Shepherd Sunday" at Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive. The designation is taken from the Gospel lesson for the day in which Jesus designated Hiself as "the Good Shepherd."

The 10:30 morning service will feature the children and youth of the congregation, together with a short chancel drama to be presented by the Senior Choir. Two contemporary hymns with guitar accompaniment will be presetned by the Sunday school pupils. The Scripture lessons will be read by young people of the congregation. Pastor Armin Hesse's illustrated address will be entitled "Remember! One Hundred and Fifty-Three!"

The Sunday school classes will open at 9, with the hymn-sing directed by Shirley Hingst. The eighth grade pupils will be advanced to a new class, to be directed by Mrs. Janet Rutz. The Sanctuary Adult Bible Class will continue the group-sessions' study of "The Upper Room Discourses of Jesus."

Next week the Sunday school staff will meet on Tuesday night at 7:30; the six church departments will meet on Wednesday night at 7:30, with the board of directors' meeting following at 9. The ladies of the LWML will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday forenoon at 9:30. A mother-dughter luau will be held in the parish hall on Friday evening at 6:30. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Gertrude Gerke or Mrs. Russel Midbrath.

$62.1 Million For Protection

Southern Calif. Edison Award For Environment

Southern California Edison Company's Alamitos Generating Station in Long Beach, California, has been awarded the 1973 Environmental Protection Award from Power Magazine, a leading industrial publication.

Jack Reed, Alamitos station superintendent, and George Hanawalt, Edison district manager, received the award in the form of an engraved plaque and an environmental banner at brief ceremonies conducted at the plant Tuesday, April 17. Don Ineman, regional manager of McGraw - Hill Publications, publishers of Power Magazine, represented the publication at the gathering.

The nationally-recognized award, now in its third year, is given to plants which "have set a pacemaker's role in protecting our air and water," according to Power Magazine editors.

Edison was selected for the electric utility's work in controlling the emissions of nitrogen oxides (NOX) in flue gases at the generating station.

"Edison is seriously interested in the problem and has been studying it and experimenting with various methods of NOX control since 1962 at its Alamitos Generating Station," Superintendent Reed remarked.

The emission control work at Alamitos involves major modification to station boilers to reduce emissions. Flue gas recirculation fans involved in this modification are being installed at Alamitos and another of Edison's major generation stations at a total cost estimated at $8 million.

Construction of Alamitos Geneating Station began in the early 1950s, with the first unit going "on the line" in 1956 and additional units completed in successive stages through the 1960s. The generation facilities use costly imported low-sulfur oil whenever natural gas is unavailable. Alamitos provides 2 million kilowatts of vitally needed electric energy for Southern California.

The Power Magazine Award is the second national recognition given Edison in recent months for efforts to protect the environment at its generating stations. In 1972, the Council on Economic Priorities, a national nonprofit research corporation, cited Eidson for having "the most responsible history of pollution control effort" following a study of 15 of the leading investor-owned electric utilities in the United States. SCE also has received other national awards for landscaping and beautification of substations.

In 1972, Edison's capital expenditures for environmental purposes totaled $62.1 million. Another $3.9 million was spent on environmentally-related research and development projects.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

How would you like to pay a 10 per cent surcharge on top of your present income taxes? This can happen to you!

According to the International Monetary Fund Survey of February 26, 1973, the German government will levy a 10 per cent income tax surcharge for a period of one year (beginning July 1, 1973) to combat the accelerating rate of inflation.

It is also announced that the government will increase the gasoline tax on the same date.

For three decades our Congress has been on a spending spree, overspending every year by deficit financing. As we all know, this has caused a raging inflation which is expropriating the wealth of our country and raising prices. This falls hardest on the retired pensioners and the poor.

Let' all help correct this menace by notifying our Congressmen, loud and clear, to "Cease Spending Beyond Income."

You Can Get Off The Hook . . . Sometimes!!

Recently a consumer telephoned the Division of Consumer Services, Department of Consumer Affairs, to ask how she could cancel the contract she had signed the day before to buy a mobile home. She had signed the contract after a high pressured sales pitch thinking she had three days to cancel. Unfortunately she had to be referred to an attorney because the three day "cooling-off" period for contracts in California, effective March 1972, applies only to Home Solicitation Contracts (over fifty dolars).

Briefly the law states:

1. The buyer has the right to cancel a home solicitation contract, or offer, until midnight of the third calendar day — excluding Sunday — after the day on which he signs an agreement or offer to purchase.

2. Cancellation occurs when the buyer gives written notice of cancellation to the seller at the address specified in the agreement.

3. Notice of cancellation, if given by mail, is effective when deposited in the mail, properly addreseed and with postage paid.

4. If you cancel and you have already made some payment to the seller, the seller is entitled to retain five per cent of the cash price but in no event may he retain more than $15.

5. If you cancel, the seller must return to you any payment made, less cancellation fee, and any goods or other property, in substantially as good condition as when received, or a sum equal to the amount of the trade-in allowance, and any other note or other evidence of indebtedness.

6. After cancellation the seller is entitled to receive back from you — at your address — any goods delivered by him to you, providing he has returned any payments and goods or other property received from you. If the seller does not call for his goods at your address within 20 days after you give notice of cancellation, you may keep them as your own.

These provisions do not apply to a contract which is executed in connection with emergency repairs or services that are necessary for the immediate protection of persons or real or personal property. Also excluded are contracts covered by the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (basically, home improvement contracts).

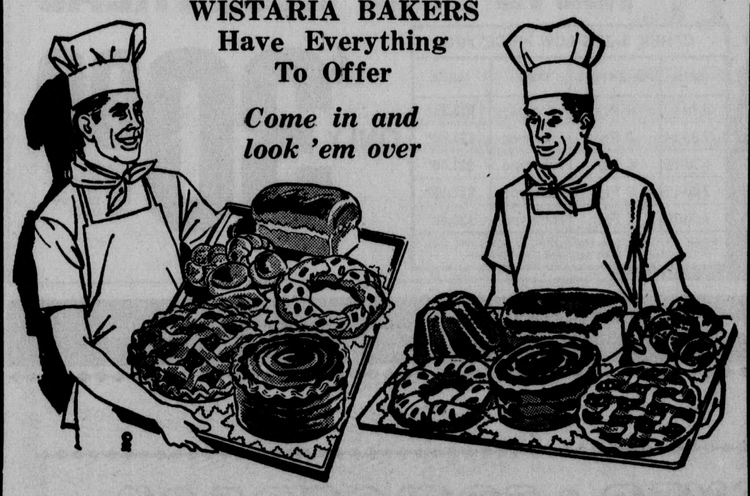

Remember: Get all the facts BEFORE you sign!!

Mr. Merchant, Your C of C Needs You

the participating merchants to sign a pledge and pay his assessment at the rate of $10 per month . . . . Absolutely nothing could have been more fair, and easier for all to participate.

But, as this story goes to print, we are just a little ashamed of the progressiveness of our merchants, for President Campbell tells us that approximately $5,500 is all that has been raised; what a shame in the face of the above information, that there are some of us who would allow their town to suffer, when it could be saved.

Earlier this month the Chamber met on the grounds of maybe "abandoning" the program altogether due to this lack of interest. Then the suggestion was made, and the one that is now in effect, that they would wait one more month, talk to as many merchants as possible and see if the promotional idea could be pulled out of the mire. And at the last report some progress is being made.

When the Chamber meets on Tuesday, May 1, the decision will have to be made to either "abandon" the program altogether and return the money to those already contributing, or should those that contributed attempt to take the money from the City together with their own and try a half a--ed program.

Why not call Hugh Campbell today, tell him that you did not understand the whole program, that you certainly want to put your shoulder to the wheel and give it the "old try." Personally, this newspaper says, if there is a merchant in Sierra Madre that cannot make a profit of $120 a year from promotions in which their co-merchants are just as interested in as they, then I suppose this is the time to turn the business over to Arcadia, Pasadena and Monrovia business houses . . .

THINK IT OVER MERCHANTS, this is what your Chamber of Comemrce is for and it is trying desperately to help you. God once said, "Ask and you will receive" . . . but further on he said, "You must cast your bread upon the water." Better start casting today, next September, when the Plaza shopping center opens your bread will come back all soggy . . . you know it.

Social Security Has New Plan

"Plan ahead, apply early" is the theme most often echoed these days in social security offices.

Effective immediately, social security numbers are no longer issued by the local offices; instead the cards come directly from social security's central office in Baltimore. Although the card itself comes from Baltimore, the applications for social security numbers are still available at the district offices.

Since it can take up to six weeks before receiving a social security card, it is a good idea to apply well ahead of the need for it. For example, if a student knows he will take a test which requires a social security number for control purposes, he should apply immediately for his number. Many states require a social security number as a control in their motor vehicle department. Anyone, therefore, knowing he will need a number for his driver's license should, of course, apply right away.

It isn't necessary to apply in person at the social security office. Simply consult the directory for the toll free number of the social security office nearest you. If you phone the office, an application form for a social security card will be mailed to you, thus saving you the inconvenience of a trip to the office.

Remember: if you anticipate the need for a social security number, "Plan ahead, apply early."

Werner Klemperer, winner of two Emmy awards for his portrayal of Colonel Klink on the television series "Hogan's Heroes," will join the West End Symphony Orchestra as guest conductorf in a gala "Pops at the Pavillion" concert Friday, May 4, 7:30, when the doors will be open to the public; the program begins at 8:30.

Republicans Elect New Officers

Melvin Burt, Pasadena business man, has been lected president of the Pasadena Republican Club which supports and staffs the local Republican Headquarters, 104 South Los Robles, Pasadena. The headquarters serves all of the foothill communities.

Other officers elected at the board of directors meeting last week included Roger Germenian, first vice president; Tom Sauters, second vice president; Mrs. George Vreeland, third vice president; Mrs. R. R. Dewees, secretary; and Earl Holder, treasurer.

Newly elected to the board at the club's recent annual dinner meeting were Mrs. D. J. Mergenthaler, Mrs. Raymond Jones, Frank Fleck and Brad Mishler.

Supervisor Ward Calls For Report

The Board of Supervisors, on a motion of Baxter Ward, directed Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson to report back to the board regarding assessments in the coastal areas of Los Angeles County, including those not covered by the Proposition 20 regions.

Ward, in making this motion, noted that the Coastal Commission has authorized new construction in the amount of one billion dollars in the Proposition 20 areas, indicating that property values in the coastal regions might not have been adversely affected by the present restrictions imposed by Proposition 20.

As Hank Ives Sees It!

LITTLE THIS-N-THAT

RUMOR MILL . . . . The Angels will trade Sandy Alomar and Billy Gyabarkrwitz will be moved to second base.

THEY SAY BOBBY PULFORD is on his way out with the Kings. Personally Old Hankus feels that Pully did a fine job and that the Kings were much improved. With a little help here and there, they should make the playoffs in 1974.

THE SHARKS far surpassed their fondest expectations in the matter of attendance for the season, and no doubt, in the matter of games won and lost. For the first go around the Los Angeles hockey entry did real well and can expect only to improve. Look for some major front office changes and for Terry Slater to come up with some imported NHL talent.

WOMEN TENNIS PLAYERS are sexier than women golfers.

STEVE VALDEZ should be a super jockey by the time he reaches the ripe old age of 20. The youngster is just 16, yet gets his share of winners already.

SUNDAY RACING will continue at Hollypark. The net to the state is too large to pass up.

THE ANGELS should finish over he .500 mark this year simply because Nolan Ryan figures to win maybe 25 games and Clyde Wright and Bill Singer about 18.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED to Dodger attendance? Big games last week with Houston and Cincinnati drew sub-20,000 crowds, unheard of in O'Malleyland.

THE LAKERS will again make it to the NBA championship round but most likely will be defeated by either Boston or New York.

WHEN THE SHARKS lost the 3-2 overtime game to Houston at the Sports Arena, they lost the series. A win would have put them ahead 3-1 in the series and no doubt assured them of a semi-final spot against Winnipeg. The Sharks dominated that game but couldn't put the puck in the net when it counted. They will go after scorers in the off-season.

THIS HAS TO BE a super tough year for track and field promoters. The big Trojan Invitational drew less than 2,000 fans and outdoor meets all over the Southland are taking a bath.

AN EXCEPTION TO THE tennis-types over the golfers in the matter of female style, is Laura Baugh. She is an absolute doll.

BETCHA former local boy Tommy Hutton wishes the National League had the designated pinch-hitter rule. Tommy gets to bat about once a game for the Phillies, usually hitting for a pitcher. If they had the DH rule in the National League he would be getting four or five at-bats.

SWEN NATER and Bill Walton will be playing for the U.S. team against the Russians at the Forum Sunday afternoon. Ed Ratleff will not. Seems kind of strange when you consider Ratleff was happy to represent his coutry in the Olymics while the other two boys finked out.

EJ-PCC CAGER GEORGE TRAPP should get more playing time as a frontline member of the Detroit Pistons. He was traded recently by the Atlanta Hawks.

THE MONTREAL CANADIENS will win the Stanley Cup, hands down.

CESAR CEDENO of Houston is the best looking young hitter in baseball.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Boycotting beef (or should that be girlcotting, what with the women's "lib?") makes just about as much sense as taking a painkiller to cure a toothache. It just doesn't work, for it is attacking the symptom rather than the cause of the problem. Those participating in the meat boycotts display a gross lack of understanding of politics and economics.

Meat boycotters lost their best opportunity to do something about food prices last November when they failed to boycott politicians, including President Nixon (especially President Nixon!), for it is he who has continually recommended ever-increasing government spending. Nixon's talk about reducing government spending is just about as sincere as Republican spending and Watergate.

Meat prices are high, as all prices are high, because of inflation, which has been caused by government spending.

Meat prices are high because of foreign aid and such extravagances as Nixon's proposed 2.5 billion dollar aid to North Vietnam.

Meat prices are high because of the grain deals our government has been making with Communist countries.

Meat prices are high because our government pays farmers not to grow grain.

Meat prices are high because our government cancels the debts owed to us by foreign countries.

Meat prices are high because our government fought a no-win war in Vietnam, while supplying both sides of that war.

Meat prices are high because our government pays people not to work.

Meat prices are high because there are more bureaucrats in the Department of Agriculture than there are farmers.

If you really want to stop the rapid increase of prices, demand your elected officials to reduce government spending and promise them you will boycott them if they don't.

ket having been left on.' A television, couch and other items were completely destroyed, and it was estimated that the fire could have been burning for a period of two to three hours before it broke into the open. Fire Chief Charles Brown estimated the damage done by fire, smoke and water at between $2,000 and $3,000.

Fire Marshal Probart further stated: "Had an alarm system been active on these premises the damage would have almost been eliminated, and the firefighters called hours earlier."

It was on Jauary 15, when Fire Marshal Probart wrote the following letter to he then owners of the property:

Mr. Peter Messineo
3800 Newhaven Rd.
Pasadea, Calif.

Re: Century Lane Hotei
38 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.
Sierra Madre, Calif.

Dear Sir:

Legislation was passed last year changing the State Health and Safety Code, section 17922, for hotels and apartments. Section B1316 of the California Administrative Code now requires an automatic or manually operated fire alarm system for apartment houses containing more than 15 apartments and hotel containing 20 or more guest rooms regardless of the number of stories.

Alarms must be in accordance with Section E 740-3 (d), Part 3, Title 24, California Administrative Code. Installation of equipment shall be in accordance with E 740-19, Part 3, Title 24 of that same code.

One alarm bell will be required in the central part of the east and west corridor to sufficiently sound an alarm to all residents in case of fire.

Completion should be accomplished and ready for inspection by our office no later than March 1, 1975.

Richard Probart
Fire Marshal

The letter speaks for itself. Prevention is Fire Marshal Probart's prime concern. No alarm installed.

Let the fools say what they please: knwledge is worth something.

Ice Capades Now Showing At L. A. Sports Arena

Laughter is still the best medicine and Ice Capades fills the prescription when the all-new spectacular opens Wednesday, April 25 through Sunday, May 13 at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

Veteran ice comedian Freddie Trenkler returns to do his famous tramp routine in "Foiled Again." Trenkler appears again in "Anchors A-Sway" where he plays the part of a sailor on ice.

Returning to Ice Capades is the hilarious comedy team of Hans (Mueller) and Pepe (Darlene Ripepe) who skate as a somewhat incompatible couple in "The Golden Years." Later Hans and Pepe extend an "Invitation To the Dance" where they skate to a most unusual rendition of "Swan Lake" where Hans literally loses his pants.

Woud you believe kissing bears? Hugging bears? Bare bears? The sensational and unusual act of Rupper's bears prove that you don't need skates to be a comedy star in Ice Capades when they appear in "Bears All the Way." It's one honey of an act!

Badminton's a gentle sport right? Wrong. Badminton is a skilled athletic contest when the racquets are in the hands of the phenomenal wizard of badminton, champion Hugh Forgie and his lovely net partner, Shirley Marie. This year the dynamic duo show off their incredible skill ala the French Foreign Legion in "It's No Mirage."

Not only is this year's Ice Capades filled with loads of laughs, but lavish production numbers and brilliant ice stars make Ice Capades the best tonic for all reasons.

Headlining the skating cast and making their professional debut are Jo Jo Starbuck and Ken Shelley, three times U.S. National Pair champions; the beautiful Italian skater, Anna Galmarini; Japanese champion Sashi Kuchiki; the exciting adagio team of Peter Gordon and Barbara Wilson and the Ice Capades Corps de Ballet all making for a joyous fun-filled evening.

Reserved seats are $2.50, $3.50, $4 and $5. Youths (18 year and under) are half price Wednesday, Thursday 8 p.m. and Saturday 2 p.m. for Long Beach engagement, and on all Tuesdays, Wednesdays Thursdays at 8 p.m. and Saturdays at 5 p.m. for the Los Angeles engagement.

Tickets are now on sale at the Long Beach Arena Box Office and the Los Angeles Sports Arena Box Office between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily. Tickets are also available at Pacific Stereo, 637 S. Hill Street, Los Angeles, all Mutual Ticket Agencies and Ticketron outlets.

Special group discounts are available by contacting the group sales office in Long Beach at 437-5489 and in Los Angeles by contacting Liz Osburn at 469-6600.

Church Women United To Fellowship At Monastery Friday, May 4

May Fellowship Day will be celebrated by Church Women United of the Pasadena Area, at the Passionist' Fathers' Monastery, 700 North Sunnyside, in Sierra Madre, beginning at 10 a.m. on Friday, May 4.

This year's theme, "As Hand Touches Hand" will celebrate the spirit of Christian women as they reach out in volunteer services in their local communities.

Since the first May Fellowship Day observances in 1933 it has been traditional for the church women across the country to use the first Friday in May to emphasize the creative and healing relations that are possible among people in every community. Each year, Church Women United has found new ways to express God's love for all people through just relationships in society.

Today's volunteers within the Church Women United movement come in many shapes and styles. Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox women in local units cross the lines of race, age, education, and economic background to meet human needs where they live. The common denominator among all is the desire, in the spirit of Christ, to emphasize the creative and healing relations which are possible among all peoples in every community.

The local celebration will begin with guided tours of the Monastery and grounds at 10 a.m. Comfortable shoes are advised. At 11 o'clock, Mrs. R. W. Blake, Sr., president of Pasadena CWU, will give the call to worship in the main church.

Father Connell Dowd, C.P., will welcome participants and lead the opening prayer.

Sister Joan Marie Rigney, member of Sisters of the Holy Child Jesus, will speak on "As Hand Touches Hand in Scripture" and Mrs. Opal C. Jones, director of the Pasadena YWCA, will use as her theme, "As Hand Touches Hand in Community."

Musical portions of the program will be sung by the Pasadena Junior League Pipers.

For the "box banquet" immediately following the service, box lunches may be purchased for $2, or, if you prefer, you may bring your own. Whether you choose to buy a box lunch, or to bring your own, please call for reservations so there can be enough coffee available and adequate seating prepared. Call Mrs. Frank Rufo, 351-9511 or Mrs. Richard Wright, 681-9738 before May 2, for reservations. Chairman of the day is Mrs. John Veale, Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church.

Other committee members are Mrs. Richard Brill, St. Mark's Episcopal Church; Mrs. William Goddard, Pasadena First Baptist Church; Mrs. E. A. Williams, Friendship Baptist Church; Mrs. Joseph Emmanuel, St. Eilzabeth's Catholic Church; and Mrs. Howard R. Reuter, Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church.

Co-chairmen of Ecunmenical Celebrations for CWU are: Mrs. Buford Fordham, Pasadena First Baptist Church; Mrs. Richard Hahn, Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church.

Are You Operating Your Business Under A Fictitious Name?

If So You Must Re-Register it Now! See News Article Below

New Law in effect:

A prediction that 300,000 firms doing business in California under fictitious trade names will re-file under the new fictitious firm name law was made this week by William G. Sharp, county clerk of Los Angeles County. Sharp is chairman of a committee of county clerks which has been preparing procedures for the new statute.

The new requirement for re-filing of all firm names goes into effect July 1, 1971, but Sharp said the filings will be accepted by the county clerk's offices beginning Monday, and he urged early filing in order to avoid the rush just before the July 1 deadline. The filing fee under the new law will be $10. Filings must be renewed hereafter at five year intervals.

The Los Angeles county clerk also pointed out that the historic publication requirement has been continued under the new law and that publication of the statement once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the neighborhood of the affected business is required whenever there has been any change in the information contained in the certificate previously filed. Publication will not be required in instances where there has been no change in the information carried in the old certificate.

A fictitious name, Sharp pointed out, is one that does not include the surname of the operator or one that implies the existence of other owners; or, if a corporation, if it includes a name other than the name given in the articles of incorporation.

The purpose of the fictitious business name procedure is to protect the consumer in enabling him to find out the person with whom he is really dealing, Sharp said. If he has been defrauded by the "John Doe Television and Time Clock Repair Shop" and the shop is really owned and operated by "Richard Roe" or the "East Ganawanda Land and Farming Corporation," the consumer can find in the fictitious name statement information for bringing suit for damages. The procedure provides a ready source of information concerning identity realities obscured by fictitious business or trade names. Most banks now require evidence that the fictitious filing and publication requirements have been met before they will open an account under a fictitious name.

The office of each county clerk will furnish forms required by the new law or information and forms from this newspaper.

Sections 17900-17930 of Business and Professions Code in Effect Jan. 1, 1971*

Refiling Dead-Line July 1, 1971

County Clerk's Filing Fee is $10 for Re-Filing or New Filing*

Publication Charge Will Be $23.00 If Publication Required.

*Old civil code sections prevail in part until July 1, with filing charge of $2.00. Only a single publication required for interim $2 filing and for the prospective $10 refiling.

Editorially Speaking

The People Must Know

By Howard Jarvis,
State Chairman, United Organizations of Taxpayers, Inc.

Because there is such a flap between the Congress and the President about executive power and congressional power I think it pertinent to tell what I heard in Washington last week. It confirms what I said in this column many weeks ago.

Senator Sam Erwin (D), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and also Chairman of the Committee investigating Watergate said "Our real trouble is that most members of Congress are only interested in drawing their breath and their salary."

Congressman Richard Hanna (D), California said. "the will of Congress has the tensile strength of a wet noodle."

The Wall Street Journal said (regarding a stable government) "We would have to say that President Nixon has attempted something along these lines. He has had precious little help, and a great deal of hindrance, from Congress. which still has too many of the frenetic breed that hatches a crisis with every morning's coffee and a half-baked remedy before the evening nightcap."

About executive privilege President Franklin Roosevelt never even told Vice President Harry Truman about the development of the atomic bomb, and next, President Harry Truman never told either the people or the Congress about the dropping of the bomb on Japan. Every President since George Washington has used executive privilege under the doctrine of "separation of powers."

The Senate and the Congress use their executive privilege all the time by holding executive committee hearings, and you can imagine the howl they would put up if the President or the people demand their right to know instantly.

ITEM — It is sort of funny to see the hysterics of Senator John Tunney (D) of California and Senator Teddy Kennedy (D) of Massachusetts over the order of the President to reduce military bases around the country to save the taxpayers a bundle of money. These two Senators have been the most loud mouthed in demanding a reduction of the military. Now, when the President does it they turn turtle and scream. Around Washington they are known as the "week end cowboys."

ITEM — It politics there is a phrase called "the kiss of death" which seems to have been given to Mayoralty candidate Jesse Unruh by Ziggy Arywitz and the bosses of the AFL-CIO in the recent city election. Mr. Unruh's labor support turned out to be a myth and all the blowing the union bosses did about supporting Mr. Unruh turned out to be "hot air."

Perhaps the AFL-CIO here ought to look around for some new leadership.

ITEM — I have been delighted to watch the returned prisoners of war bewilder and confound the pundits and commentators of television about the events that took place in the Viet Nam war. These interviews proved conclusively that most of the broadcasts about the war in the last three years were nothing but absurd nonsense.

ITEM — The following is a letter from Superivosr Ernest E. Debs:

Foreign Aid For Industry

By Congressman Thomas M. Rees

Detroit has won another round in its campaign to pollute the atmosphere of this country. With the Environmental Protection Agency giving in on its effort to force the Detroit automakers to adhere to the 1975 pure air standards. Americans can look forward to more bouts with dirty, choking, eye-searing and killing smog.

It's always been so. What the automakers want, they usually get. The "damn the public welfare" attitude that has always seemed to prevail continues to rule the roost at General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler.

As odd or shocking as it might seem, practically all the improvements to the American automobile designed to protect the public, such as seat-belts, adequate bumpers, and now air pollution control devices, have been mandated by the Congress and forced on the automakers over their opposition. They prefer utilizing their efforts on developing sales gimmicks and designing new garish front grills, tail fins, or hydraulic toe rests.

Our auto industry is sick — it's been sick a long time. Our auto exports shrink as the import of foreign autos skyrockets. Detroit's answer to the Volkswagen was the Edsel. Here is an industry isolated in the machinations of its own ego — the demented king who claims supremacy as his once great empire wastes away.

The prime example of the ineptness of this sick giant is its inability to clean up the dirty engine. But while Detroit insisted that it could not possibly meet the 1975 clean air standards. foreign automakers have shown that they can.

Toyo Kogyo Company, a Japanese automaker which produces Mazda, an automobile with a Wankel rotary engine built under a German patent. qualified; so did Mercedes, a German automaker with a diesel engine. Another Japanese automaker, Honda, stated that it would be able to meet the 1975 standards.

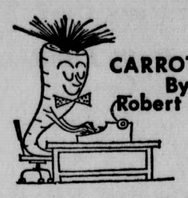

Most of these automakers — all foreign — which have met the clean air standards have developed new technology which enabled them to redesign the motor in order to create their low emission autos. Detroit, on the other hand, is still fiddling around with a catalytic converter concept that is not very effective and has been around for too many years to remember.

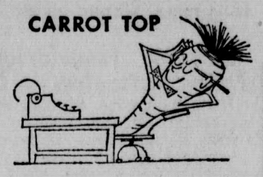

Let's face it, with regard to automobiles the United States has become an underdeveloped country. Our vaunted technology has been long outmoded. Maybe the Japanese and the Germans should include us in their foreign aid program; they could teach us how to build efficient smog-free motor vehicles.

When stopped for speeding by a patrol car, an unidentified motorist offered this excuse: "This highway is so dangerous that I was hurrying to get off of it."

— CT —

Let me tell you how congested traffic is getting on the freeways. Yesterday I saw a 3-year-old boy leaning out of a car window sucking a hitchhiker's thumb.

— CT —

Someone recently said to me, "The expressing of appreciation is a lost art." My reply was, "If this is true, we should rediscover it." It is easy to see how quickly animals respond to praise and appreciation. Experiments have proved this is true of some plants. And it is certainly true that all human beings respond to appreciation. Nothing so quickly makes us feel good, inspires us to do better, and generally lifts our spirits than for someone to express genuine appreciation. This is an art everyone can practice.

— CT —

I believe it was in Shakespeare that Lady Mac Beth, said "Out, Out Damn Spot" and it was during the administration of Teddy Roosevelt that the expression was made "Out, Out Damn Light." The following true accounting will back up this remark:

— CT —

For many years there hung in the President's office in the White House an elaborate crystal chandelier which had been bought in Paris by Thomas Jefferson.

— CT —

It remained more or less unnoticed until Theodore Roosevelt came into office. Roosevelt, an outdoor man who loved fresh air, usually worked with windows open. The breeze blowing in caused the prisms to tinkle. For some time Roosevelt endured this distraction — with mounting impatience. Then one day he growled, "Get this thing out of here."

— CT —

"But Mr. President," he was asked, "where shall we put it?"

Roosevelt thought this over for a minute.

— CT —

"Put it in the Vice President's office," he ordered. "He has nothing to do anyway. Maybe it will keep him awake."

His order was carried out. And there the chandelier hangs to this day.

— CT —

A peculiar tendency of thinking human beings is to behave, not necessarily in response to the facts of a given situation, but in response to what they believe is the situation.

— CT —

Men who believe there are different kinds of inflation may be convinced thar different cures are needed. For instance, if it is a "Cost Push" inflation, and higher wages are believed to be the cost of production most responsible for the extra push, then the obvious cure would seem to be a roll-back or other control of the wage rates.

— CT —

Or, if higher profits are believed to be responsible for pushing prices upward, then the most likely cure would be an "excess-profits" tax or some limitation of profits.

— CT —

The latest new kind of inflation is alleged to be "Social Inflation" . . . due to the extra expense of cleaning up air, and water, fostering "consumerism," meeting other social goals. And when the doctors of the sick body politic get around to it, they might possibly come to believe that the cure for social inflation is to clamp a lid on federal spending.

— CT —

In view of the widespread disagreement about the facts concerning inflation in tht United States of America . . . Let us imagine a comparable situation at some other time and place in history. Let's say it's the year of the millennium in Utopia and set is we can visualize the facts. Let's futher imagine that the residents of Utopia are as bright on the whole as we are, living under what is generally described as a free market economy with quite a lot of government intervention.

— CT —

For the sake of simplicity let's say that about a third of the laborers in Utopia are members of a union under the leadership of Mr. Goody. And Mr. Goody says to the boys, "Let's have some inflation; instead of the going wage of $3 per hour, we'll demand $6." But in Utopia there is no way to force an employer to hire anyone at $6, so Mr. Goody might have some $6 unemployment. but no $6 labor; and there's practically nothing laborers can do to bring about wage-push inflation

— CT —

In Utopia, when a businessman decides to have a little inflation, raise his prices five per cent to double his profits, a funny thing happens. Consumers decide they'll buy from other suppliers instead, at the old prices; and some businesses change ownership, but there isn't any inflation.

— CT —

However, when the people of Utopia ask the government to provide additional services without increasing taxes, and the government finances its deficits by printing additional money, then there is inflation in Utopia. "Social Inflation" caused by pumping nothing but money into the market.

— CT —

Inflation in Utopia is strictly a monetary phenomenon. If the government prints the money, it is called social inflation. If anyone else prints it, it is called counterfeiting. And that's the fact, the only relevant fact pertaining to inflation . . . in Utopia that is.

— CT —

We mentioned earlier the possibility that once we've identified this new kind of "social infuation" that plagues the United States . . . then perhaps one of the doctors might find a workable cure.

— CT —

Not bad for a start is advice from Andrew F. Brimmer, member of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System: "Despite our obivous affluence as a nation, we do not have the capacity to produce enough so that households can maximize their consumption . . . while minimizing taxes; so that an adequate volume of housing can be built; so that business can expand their production facilities at a maximum rate . . . and also make the investment needed to abate pollution; so that governments can meet the increasing demand for public services . . . while tax revenues lag behind spending."

— CT —

What the good doctor seems to be prescribing is exercise . . . of self-reliance and will-power. If we don't like inflation then ask the government to stop pampering us and tampering with the money supply and stick to its more appropriate governmental function of policing the market; otherwise leave us alone, I hope, I hope, I hope.

"Mom, how can you get so upset about drugs when you really don't know a thing about them?"

If you're having a little trouble these days getting through to your kids when you try to discuss illegal drug use, it may be because they know a lot more than you do about the subject.

We can't promise to make you an expert, but we can help you to catch up a little. Here are a few facts to talk from:

1. Marihuana:

Its use is a felony. Conviction, even with a suspended sentence, may cause interruption of education, difficulty in obtaining a driver's license in some states, entering a profession, getting a responsible job. While marihuana, which is not a narcotic, does not cause physical dependence, it may lead to "psychological dependence" if taken regularly. There is no current conclusive evidence that marihuana is "medically safe." Research is currently being conducted to find out more about its physical and psychological effects.

2. LSD:

Its effects can differ at times in the same individual. There is no way of predicting whether a "trip" will be "good" or "bad." And days, weeks, even months after using LSD, the things the user experienced while on the drug may recur unexpectedly. The LSD experience can sometimes be disturbing enough to cause acute and even long-lasting mental illness.

3. "Ups and Downs":

Excessive use of amphetamines ("ups") can drive a person beyond his physical endurance and leave him totally depleted physically, since he feels like neither eating nor sleeping. The body develops a tolerance to these drugs, with larger and larger doses required to feel the effects. Long-term heavy users are usually irritable, unstable, and may suffer social, intellectual, and emotional breakdown. Abrupt withdrawal ("crashing") for the heavy user can result in a deep and suicidal depression.

Barbiturates ("downs") can, in regular and excessive doses, become physically addicting. Overdose, or abrupt withdrawal for a heavy user, can cause death. Barbiturates are a leading cause of accidental poison deaths in the U.S. Amphetamines are sometimes prescribed as "diet pills," and barbiturates are given as prescription sleeping pills, but neither should be taken except in strict accordance with a physician's prescription.

4. Narcotics:

Heroin is physically, as well as psychologically addicting. Large, or unexpectedly unadulterated doses can result in death. The addict's main object in life becomes getting the drug. He may turn to crime as the only way to get enough money to support his habit (which can run as high as $100.00 per day).

Robert Talbott Honored As 'Man of Year' Sat., April 28

A surprised Robert Talbott was presented with a "Man of the Year" award by the Sierra Madre Athletic Association, Inc. Saturday, April 28. Recognition was a part of the Association's Opening Day Ceremonies for the five baseball - softball programs it sponsors.

Talbott was recognized for consistent support of and significant contributions to youth athletic activities. In making the presentation, Mrs. Mary Turrietta, member of the Sierra Madre Athletic Association, Inc., board of directors, pointed to Talbott's notable accomplishments and the impact of "his inspirational leadership through the years to a host of volunteers — the life line of the girls' softball and boys' baseball programs. Recognition of an individual for outstanding achievement in progam leadership and excellence," Mrs. Turrietta continued, "is made only when the contributions of a person are so impressive that they command this special attention. Bob Talbott has been that kind of individual."

Long known for his support of recreational programs for boys and girls, Talbott has served in a variety of volunteer capacities including team manager, impire, organization leader and is currently a member of the Sierra Madre Parks and Recreation Commission. Most recently, he was instrumental in installing lights at the Heasley Field diamond. This impressive accomplishment was achieved through Talbott's leadership with Sierra Madre volunteers and personal contributions of professional service and endless hours of work.

The Pasadena businessman resides at 315 Wistaria Way, Sierra Madre. His interest in young people begins at home with three sons and a daughter all of whom have been involved in Little League, Pony or Colt Leagues or Girls' Softball. The family commitment to sports programs for youth includes active involvement of Talbott's wife, Millie, who is currently an officer in the girls' Softball League.

Volunteer marchers are needed to fill the ranks of nearly 100,000 "Volunteers for Hope," who will go out on Sunday, June 3, seeking contributions for the Hope Sunday campaign on behalf of the free non-sectarian City of Hope.

Music for listeners or dancers will be by the Cal Rush Combo. Gaming tables with fair dealers (local volunteers) will entertain the gambling spirit. Public Utilities Urges Assessment Ratio Reductions

California public utilities urged the State Board of Equalization in hearings April 24-27, to reduce the assessment ratio for utilities to 25 per cent of market value from the present 27 per cent. The utility representatives were appearing in informal hearings to offer suggestions for the Board to consider when assessing properties of public utilities.

Board Member George R. Reilly said that the Board will make its initial findings of valuation of public utility properties at its hearings May 8-1 and final determinations at its May 23-24 hearings.

The public utilities represented were: Pacific Gas and Electric Company, San Diego Gas and Electric Company, Southern California Edison Company, General Telephone Company of California, Western Union, Pacific Lighting Group, Union Pacific Corporation, Western Pacific Railroad Company, Southern Pacific Railroad Company, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

In addition to the utility assessment matter, the Board also concluded hearings on a variety of business tax matters including petitions for redetermination of sales and use taxes. The Board took under submission proposed Regulations 1602, Food Products, and 1602.5, Reporting Methods for Grocers.

The board will next meet in Sacramento May 8-11.

Classical guitarist Darryl Denning will hold a recital in Herrick Memorial Chapel on the Occidental College campus Saturday, May 5, at 8:15 p.m.
